We Love Being Different From Other Restaurants.
We Hope You'll Love It Too!

Have you ever told your family what you'd do different if you opened a restaurant? Grandma's recipes, Friendly people. Well, that's exactly why we opened Babe's Chicken Dinner House. We wanted a sit-down restaurant where people really feel at home. Babe's is a casual place where you'll feel comfortable in your blue jeans or cutoffs.

Where your neighbors wait on you and your whole family. We put our money in our food, not in a freeway location or fancy decor. Since we don't advertise a lot, we kind of depend on our customers to get the word out. So bring the kids and bring Aunt Hazel, but leave that dog at home. And come hungry, cause you won't believe how far your money will go!

BABE'S GRANBURY RESTAURANT FACTS

- The building was constructed around 1917, and originally assembled and sold Ford Model T's. It was also the first auto dealer in Granbury – in fact, the hydraulic lift used to work on those model T's, was found buried in the alley.

- The billboard in the back of the dining room features a painting of the Brazos River by Scott Lennox, a Fort Worth artist, poet, musician and public speaker. The painting is named "Brazos Fall". Scott believes in sharing the goodness he feels is still alive in the world through his paintings, music, poetry and public speaking.
- Granbury and Hood County are rich in Texas history. Davy Crockett's wife, Elizabeth, settled in Hood County in 1853 following the Texas Revolution against Mexico. Crockett, as well as other Alamo participants, received 640 acres in land grants. The Crockett family received land in what is now Hood County.

- At some point in the building's past, it began to fall down. A new roof was added along with the columns running the length of both walls, which also are tied to the outside walls to keep the structure together. The Cedar columns you see actually have metal columns running up the centers of them.

- The depressions and cavities in the Cedar are completely natural, and become exposed when the bark is removed. Cedar is known for its resistance to moisture, decay and insect damage. Cedar also has a unique cell structure that traps tiny pockets of air that act as a natural insulation.
- Our Honey is TEXAS BRUSH HONEY made from bees visiting Catclaw, Mesquite, White Brush, Huajillo and Persimmon. This should be good for local folk's allergies.
- A dessert of homemade biscuits with butter, honey and sorghum comes with your meal. This is a typical country dessert we grew up eating. SORGHUM (the jar on the table that isn't honey). Sorghum does not have the strong bitter taste of Molasses.
